CORETEK

– Museum Grade Flips and Currency Holders

Now available in Canada at CSS

Preserving and displaying your collection is of utmost importance.

Coretek flips and currency holders meet the highest standard in archival quality material available on the market today.

To meet this standard, Coretek uses a polyester film that is 100% uncoated, colorless, biaxially-oriented PET. That means no plastic, no additives or UV inhibitors, no surface coatings, no absorbents or other contaminants.

Storage flips containing PVC, dark tints or oily residues, do not meet this high standard. Flips that have a coating, stick together, or take a heat seal do not meet the Coretek standard, because pure PET is smooth and can only be sealed ultrasonically.

Trusted by professional numismatists worldwide, Coretek is a truly archival product line and represents the best practices in archival materials for coin and currency holders.

TWO POCKET COIN FLIPS

A Coin Flip is a small double pocket that folds in half, and is designed to hold one coin.

The most popular Coin Flips measure two inches square (when folded), but they also come in 1.5 inch and 2.5 inch sizes.

Usually, a collector or dealer puts a coin in the pocket of one side of the flip, and puts a small piece of paper or card, called an insert, in the other pocket which identifies the coin (all brands we offer, except Guardhouse, include the inserts).

Here, at CoinStampSupplies.Com, we offer our collectors Four Brands of Coin Flips:

CANADIAN WHOLESALE SUPPLY

This double sided vinyl Flipp was designed to have one pocket hold a coin while the other pocket holds an ID Paper which a collector can use for a description, date, price, etc.

Three sizes are available: 2" x 2" and 2-1/2" x 2-1/2" as well as 3-1/4" x 3-1/4".

All sizes come with an ID paper, and each size of Flipp comes in packages of 20.

PERFORATION GAUGES

Perforations, or “perfs”, refers to the small holes punched between stamps on a sheet to make them easier to separate, rather than cutting them individually from the sheet.

Some stamps may look identical, and the only difference is the number of perforations. Different perforations can greatly affect the value of a stamp. The standard form of measurement is the number of perforations found within a 2 cm (20 mm) section of the stamp.

For example, “Perf 11” would refer to the stamp having 11 perforations in 2 cms. Compound perforations refer to a difference in horizontal and vertical perforations.

There are a variety of tools available to gauge the perforations, naturally called “Perforation Gauges.” Simply lay your stamp on the perforation gauge and slide it down until the perforations on the stamp match those on the gauge.
